

Dynamic Selection with the Informal Sector

This paper asks when informality can turn policies that normally affect economic activity only at the level into policies with permanent effects on long-run growth.

DATE & TIME

November 5, 2026 (Thursday)

1:00-2:00 PM

 Bring your own lunch. Coffee and snacks will be served.

VENUE

Room 205, Annex Building
West Campus, Hitotsubashi University

SPEAKER

Dr. Masakazu Emoto

Specially Appointed Assistant Professor
Hitotsubashi Institute for Advanced Study

REGISTRATION

Please register via the QR code.

[Deadline] November 3, 2026 (Tuesday)

The HIAS Brown Bag Seminar is a university-wide seminar series hosted by the Hitotsubashi Institute for Advanced Study (HIAS). It aims to promote interaction among HIAS researchers, faculty members, and students. With its 11 research centers, HIAS will continue to serve as a hub for active research collaboration across the University.

[Contact]

Hitotsubashi Institute for Advanced Study (HIAS)
Research Services Office

 hias-info@ad.hit-u.ac.jp